We cated by a previous Convention.

And when a new convention meets its power ceases, unless by a new appointment or by tacit consent that power should be continued. We deny that the present Executive Committee, so-called, has any authority whatsever in the premises. The most the committee could do was to call a meeting, with no better right than that of any other private citizens and that of any other private citizens, and it should do nothing as an organization to control or influence the action of the people when assembled. As independent thinking men, we support the principles and the policy of the Democratic party, just as the Democratic Convention," to be held at Nushville, to nominate candidates for the Supreme Beach! Of course it was pre-destined to fall still-born, as any movement seeking to give to the election of a Supreme Beach a partisan course at that time, or any other time, was forcordained to fail. The bare suggestion was, in itself, sufficient to have defeated a State Judicial Convention," to be held at Nushville, to nominate candidates for the Supreme Beach! Of course it was pre-destined to fall still-born, as any movement seeking to give to the election of a Supreme Beach! Of course it was pre-destined to fall still-born, as any movement seeking to give to the election of a Supreme Beach! Of course it was pre-destined to fall still-born, as any movement seeking to give to the election of a Supreme Beach a partisan course, and the supreme Beach of the supreme Beach and the supreme cause they think that course right. But we demand measures to win and not measures to drive, the dictation of the people and not that of men who act with no large and wise discretion as the agents of the people. If the Democratic Committee would serve the Democratic cause, it will make war on the enemies rather than on the friends of that cause, and resign army, and of the American officers who have entered the service of the Khedive, will be found interesting:

The Egyptian army is compo-ed of Moors, Arabs and negroes, and on a peace footing numbers between 50,000 and 63,000 men. In discipline and appointment it will compare very favorably with the best organized armies of Europe, and in physique is far superior to the Turkish or any Eastern force which is likely to be brought in contact with it. The plan of organization is similar to that adopted in the French army, with some improveorganization is similar to that adopted in the French army, with some improve-ments introduced by Americana. The pay of the officers is the same as in the French service, which is about ten per cent less than that of the United States. Every officer is allowed one slave as his body servant, for whom he is to furnish
